

Up to 13 million books are sent to the UK's landfills every year, at the same time we want to get more people reading. This doesn't make sense! Books for London wants to put old books back into circulation, by setting up a London-wide book sharing scheme in tube and train stations. These station swaps will be used by hundreds of people every day to swap their unwanted books, and to discover new ones to read.

WE NEED YOUR HELP

- Your old and unwanted books to help set up our station swaps
- Unwanted bookshelves that are in good condition
- Volunteers to help us out with fundraising and events and to work with us and local charity groups to manage stations in their area.

Helping out with Books for London is a great way to do something at the heart of your community, to learn new skills, and meet new people. Want to know more, or want to help out?
